D Numb. 114.

The Daily Courant.

Saturday, Auguſt 29. 1702.

From the Leyden Gazette, Dated Aug. 31.

Venice, Aug. 18.

WE are fitting out 6 Men of War, which with 4 others that are already equipp'd, and 6 Galleys, will ſpeedily be ſent to Cruiſe in the Gulf, under the Command of Admiral Duodo, to defend the entrance againſt all foreign Ships of War. And 'tis reported that moſt of the Men of War and Galleys that the Republick have in the Levant, are come as far as the Iſland of Corfu, for the ſame purpoſe. The Proveditore-General Molino who commands on the Terra Firma, has order'd all the reform'd Officers to repair forthwith to Verona, there to receive the Commands of the Republick. From whence 'tis conjectur'd, that the Venetians have a Deſign to Augment their Land-Forces. Mean time they have ſent back 300 French Deſerters to the Duke of Vendome, who had taken refuge in Venice: which occaſions various diſcourſes and reflections.

Rome, Aug. 12. There has been a ruffle between the Queen Dowager of Poland, and the Dutcheſs d' Uzeda, the Spaniſh Ambaſſador's Lady, which happen'd on this Occaſion; Their Coaches meeting in a certain Street, the Dutcheſs d' Uzeda would not let her Coach ſtop till the Queen's paſs'd by; upon which their Footmen fell upon one another, and in the Scuffle 3 of the Queen's were wounded; they have both complain'd to the Pope, and he has promis'd the Queen ſhall have Satisfaction for the Affront. We hear that Seignior Falconieri the Apoſtolical Commiſſioner, being come with 1200 Soldiers and Sbirris and 4 Pieces of Cannon before Montefortino, a little Town in which ſome of the Banditi had ſhelter'd themſelves, the Banditi ſtood upon their defence, but after ſome hours reſiſtance, in which ſeveral Men were kill'd on both ſides, he enter'd the Town and took 3 of them, and had beſieg'd the reſt to the number of 30 in a Convent into which they were retir'd.

Naples, Aug. 8. One of the Nuns of the Convent of St. Marcellus, who is Siſter to the Prince de la Marchia, having had ſome hot words with the Siſter of Cardinal Cantelmi, Archbiſhop of this City, who is of the ſame Convent; That Prelate ſent ſome Eccleſiaſtical Officers on the 5th, with a Company of Sbirris and 1000 Soldiers, which the Viceroy granted him, to take her out of the Convent. But all the other Nuns of the Convent oppoſing this Violence, the Cardinal went thither in Perſon, hoping his Preſence might diſpoſe them to ſubmit to his will. They did not refuſe to open the Gate of their Convent; but it was upon condition that none but himſelf and a few of his Attendants ſhould enter. Yet for all he could ſay, they kept firm to their reſolution, and he was forc'd to go out agen, to his great mortification. But on the 8th, the Viceroy let him have ſome Soldiers, who broke open the Gates, took away the Nun, and put her into another Convent. All the City exclaims againſt this Proceeding of the Cardinal, but he being a great Partiſan of the Courts of France and Spain, 'tis thought it would be to no purpoſe to complain of him at the Court of Rome. The Viceroy has given out Commiſſions for levying a New Regiment to reinforce the Garriſons of ſeveral Maritime Places; on the 7th he order'd 400 Spaniſh Soldiers to be embarq'd on 4 Veſſels, and they are ſail'd with Orders ſeal'd up, which they are not to open till they are out 7 Leagues at Sea; Some believe they are gone to Regio in Calabria, to chaſtiſe the Citizens of that Town, who have kill'd their Governour: and others think, to Otranto to keep the Malecontents in awe on that Side. Beſides the Malecontents in the Abruzzo, there are others in the Province of Salernum who have taken Arms and declar'd for the Houſe of Auſtria.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, Dated Aug. 31.

Strasburg, Aug. 23. 'Tis given out here, that Marſhal Catinat will certainly attempt the relief of Landau: We talk likewiſe of Beſieging Fort Kehl: The Garriſons are drawn out of Hunninghen and other places, and ſome of the Peaſants are arm'd and put in their room. The Little Fort on the Iſland in the Rhine is finiſh'd, and planted with Cannon; and the Imperialiſts on their ſide of the Rhine, and the French from that Fort, are Cannonading each other.

Paris, Aug. 25. 'Tis ſaid the King will write to the Pope's Nuncio to move the Emperour to give the Marſhal de Villeroy his Liberty; deſiring to have him near his Perſon, and promiſing not to employ him in his Armies during this War. My Lord Middleton and his Son, who till now kept themſelves Proteſtants, have at length turn'd Roman Catholicks.

Liege, Aug. 27. Collonel Mombriſon came Yeſterday to the Cloyſter of St. Leonard, ſeiz'd upon the Prior and ſome of the Monks, and took away their Papers, on pretence that they held intelligence with the Dutch.

Maeſtricht, Aug. 28. This day the Earl of Albemarle came hither from the Army, being indiſpos'd: he will return thither agen as ſoon as he is well.

Bruſſels, Aug. 27. Laſt Night at 1 a Clock, a Courier paſs'd thro' this City in his way to the Camp of the Duke of Burgundy; leaving a Pacquet to be diſpatch'd immediately to the Marquis de Bedmar in Flanders; two hours after came another Courier with a Letter from Don Bernardo de Quiros to the Marquis of Bedmar, importing that there htd been a Battel in Italy between the Germans and the French, in which the Germans were worſted.

From the Bruſſels Gazette, Dated Aug. 29.

They write from the Camp of the Marquis de Bedmar near Fort St. John, That two Detachments of Grenadiers being advanc'd towards Hulſt in the Night of the 27th; the next Morning at break of day aſſaulted the Forts of St. Andrew and Quaetperſgat, and took them by Storm. And that our Troops are at work in raiſing Batteries for attacking other Forts and Poſts of the Enemy, which with their Sluces are the main defence of Hulſt; The Inhabitants of that Town are ſending away their beſt Effects for fear of a Siege.

From the Antwerp Gazette, Dated Sept. 1.

From the Army under the Marquis of Bedmar, Aug. 30th. at Ten at Night. This Afternoon our Troops poſſeſs'd themſelves of a Horn-work before Fort Kykuyt, with the loſs of 100 kill'd or wounded, among them ſome Officers: The Marquis de Thouy was ſlightly wounded in the Shoulder. We have made a pretty large Breach in the Fort, and 'tis thought we ſhall Storm it to Night.
